

Human activity has had a negative impact on plants and animals around the world. Some people think that this cannot be changed, while others believe actions can be taken to bring about a change. Discuss both sides of the argument and give your opinion.

~~Now-a-day's~~ ~~Nowaday's~~ deforestation, pollution and food waste are creating a lot of problems ~~to~~ ~~for~~ plants and animal kingdom all around the world. It is argued by some that this process may not be stopped, while, others believe that by taking some precautions this situation can be changed. [a new sentence is needed here], ~~in~~ ~~My opinion~~ [not needed as you next say "I believe"], I believe that despite there being extinction of species caused by human activities ~~but~~ [you can not have this because of "despite" in the previous clause], it is better to take some steps ~~on~~ ~~in~~ order to have mutual benefits.

[the last sentence of the instruction should make it clearer that the essay is not only about YOUR opinion but also the two sides of the argument]

It is often argued that the process human acts [something is wrong here] cannot be stopped to fulfill his ~~or her~~ basic needs. Every human being in this world gets shelter and food through plants and animals but because of increased activities their population is tremendously declining. For instance, a recent study conducted by ~~the~~ national biological survey of India revealed that 90% of tigers in forests got extinct due to unstoppable human movements [don't put in specific percentages...and I suggest you do not make-up fake research...I absolutely detest it when students do this!]. The human race cannot survive ~~Being~~ without depending on plants and animals ~~human race cannot survive~~.

On the other hand, by making some good protocols we can overcome this negative problem and have more benefits. Using public transport instead of private vehicles can minimize the effect of pollution ~~and~~ as a result use of fossil fuels will decrease and global warming can be minimized [you need to more clearly point out how this benefits the plants and animals]. Additionally, using alternative sources instead of wood can also fix the problem of deforestation. [this example does not illustrate ANYTHING about using less wood...coal is not wood] For example, recently ~~the~~ USA started using ~~of~~ green energy instead of using coal for generating electricity, they replaced solar cells and wind for producing power. By strictly following these steps humans can have more benefits without disturbing biodiversity. [how? You need to be clearer...plants and animals are not being burnt to make power so how does it help them?]

In conclusion, although continuous exploitation by humans to fulfill basic needs is highly atrocious and resulting in extinction of plants and animals ~~but~~ [you can not have this because of "although" in the previous clause], by ~~taking~~ ~~making~~ some changes like using alternate sources and by using less ~~amount~~ ~~of~~ fossil fuels there will be mutual benefits and the biodiversity can be balanced.
